

MEDIA APPLICANTZ

Dear Sir/Ma

APPLICATION FOR THE POST OF A SOCIAL MEDIA INFLUENCER

I am Robinson Agaga, A bachelor degree holder and also an experience software developer with over 10 years working experience. I have the ability to “think outside the box” when it comes to devising and implementing social media strategies and campaigns.

I am applying for this post because it perfectly fits my abilities. Right now I am looking for a chance to create a career that I can be proud of, and consequently would like to join a company like yours that can offer me an exceptional range of diverse career options. Your company is at the forefront of on-line marketing, and is involved in campaigns for clients and agencies across a wide range of verticals. This is exactly the kind of environment that I want to be involved in.

As a proven and skilled individual I feel that I would be an immediate asset to your operations. I have experience of working on SEO and PR campaigns through verticals such as blogs, LinkedIn, YouTube, Facebook, Twitter, Google+, Pinterest and Instagram. Possessing exceptional understanding of social media platforms, I am more than able to respond to and engage with users in line with set marketing goals and objectives. In addition to all the above, I also possess a delicate balance of analytical, computer programming and creative skills, along with excellent client facing skills.

If after reviewing my CV and you feel I may be a suitable candidate for an interview, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Yours sincerely,

Agaga Robinson
